

Courses Added by Night School

Several new courses have been added to the Torrance Adult Education program, it was announced today. An 8-week blueprint and vocabulary building, techniques of cafeteria operation, electronics, industrial mathematics and speed reading are among the classes opening. Open to anyone over 18 years of age, these classes are offered free of charge by the Torrance Unified School District. The new semester begins the week of Feb. 1. Persons not wanting credit may register at the first meeting of the class. Schedules of classes are available upon request to the Adult Education office, Torrance High School or by calling FA 8-8080, ext. 295, or FA 8-9206 evenings.

Mrs. Louis Bisou Named Candidate

(Continued from Page B) the home and school's the problems of combating juvenile delinquency." Mrs. Bisou is also president of the Homeowners Association of Southwest Park, a section chairman on the Community Drive, and a member of the city's Democratic Club. How does she find the time? "It's my recreation," she explains. "If you enjoy doing something it's fun, I've done PTA work for 11 years and loved every minute of it." When quired as to how her husband, Louis, feels about her extra curricular activities, she laughed, "He's involved too, she said. "He's an assistant scout master of Boy Scout Troop 372, and we're both interested in the little leagues. Mr. and Mrs. Bisou were married in 1941 in Mrs. Bisou's home town of Leeper Mo. They came to California in 1953 and lived in Lawndale for two years before moving to Torrance in 1955. Bisou, a native of O'Fallon, Ill., is employed by the city of Torrance. "We love it here," they both agreed.

The couple have three children, Robert 16, an honor student at North High, who's interests are politics and engineering; Aglaee 14, otherwise known as Ann, a freshman at North High, who hopes to enter social work; and Louis Jr. 13, a student at Carl Steele Elementary, who's main interest at the moment is scouting. "We all have a wonderful time together," Mrs. Bisou boasts. "I've always tried to take part in their activities, I'm a former girl-scout leader and I even enjoy rock and roll. I have to with three teenagers in the house!"

Winning Letter

Dear Editor: I would like to nominate Mrs. Eve Bisou for the Woman of the Year award. She is at home at 4914 Halison St. with her husband and three children: Robert, 16; Ann, 14, and Junior, 13. While she is employed, she still has time to fill her extra hours with youth activities. She is an active member of the PTA at Carle Steele School and has been for four years. She holds the office of juvenile and safety chairman at present. She has been a working member of the Community Chest, March of Dimes and City of Hope. She is always ready to help wherever she is needed. I sometimes wonder how she stretches the days out to include all her activities. She is president of the Southwest Park Civic Association and La Romeria Park has been a special project of hers, even before there were any layout plans made. The children in her neighborhood even call it Eve Bisou Park. She is a member of the Civic Center Recreation bond issue that was presented to the voters a few years ago. There isn't anyone that I know who is willing to give more of her time to civic affairs and to helping others than she. I believe she deserves to be Woman of the Year. Sincerely, MRS. JANE HOGUE

Torrance Woman of the Year to Be Honored at Luncheon Fete

Who will be Torrance Press Woman of the Year for 1959? The seven community minded women who are contenders for this outstanding award will be honored, and the recipient of the prized trophy will be announced at a luncheon on Thursday, Feb. 4 at the Palms Restaurant. Weekly winners will be accompanied by their sponsors, those who wrote letters nominating them as deserving to be considered Torrance's outstanding woman of the year. Nominees are: Mmes. Leon Maxey, Bert Lynn, Gordon Goodwin, Kenneth McVey, Rose Craig, Robert Orsini, and Louis Bisou. Sponsors are: Mrs. D. R. Kallenberger, Mrs. Edward Schwartz, Mrs. William Klawonn, Mrs. Frederick Folts, Mrs. Alexander Majack, Dick Fitzgerald, Rabbi Henri Front and Mrs. Jane Hogue. The presentation of the award will be made by Torrance Mayor, Albert Isen. Chairman of the event is Sylvia Miller.

CFWC Workshop Slated Tomorrow

The annual Marina District 18, CFWC birthday council and workshops will be held tomorrow at Santa Monica Bay Womens Club, 1210 4th St., Santa Monica, with Mrs. Grant Putnam presiding. Three state chairmen who will be speakers at the council are Mrs. Ernest A. Simmons state religion chairman, presented by Mrs. Wallace Rogers, Mrs. James P. Kavanagh, state narcotics chairman, introduced by Mrs. Alfred Hedberg; and Mrs. Edwin F. Bryant, state chairman of literature and drama, presented by Mrs. Elwood K. Schulpe. Mrs. Putnam will announce plans for the group's fourth convention, April 7th and 8th in the Mira Mar Hotel, Santa Monica. Mrs. H. E. Moulthrop is convention chairman; Mrs. Ervin W. Graf is co-chairman.
